WASHINGTON JOURNALISTS VISIT EDMONTON TO-MORROW

Something About the Members of the Party Who will Spend the Day in the City

Owing to a delay en route the Washington correspondents who are touring the west will arrive in the city late this evening and will spend tomorrow here. As they arrive late this evening and leave tomorrow afternoon there will be no opportunity for a public reception.

Twelve gentlemen, who, when at home, are correspondents in Washington, of leading American newspapers, are to reach Edmonton by the C. N. R. this afternoon and spend a day in the city.

The large body of Washington correspondents is said to be the most capable and clever company of newspapermen in the world, and the representatives who are now engaged in a tour of Canada are among the most efficient of this group of news writers.

The list of visitors as supplied by Herbert Vanderhoof, of the Western Canadian Immigration association, is as follows: Irving C. Norwood, the Washington Star; Angus McSweeney, the Philadelphia North American; Thomas J. Pence, the Raleigh News; and Edward G. Lowery, the New York Evening Post; Richard H. Lindsay, Kansas City Star; D. Hastings McAdam, the St. Louis Republic; Wilbur G. Miller, Scripps McRae Press association, and the Publishers' Press association; Jesse L. Carmichael, the Detroit Free Press; Wm. P. Couet, Cleveland Plain Dealer; Muriel Splain, the Pittsburg Post; Wm. E. Moore, the Chicago Inter-Ocean; (Continued on Page Five)

WHY WATER IS MUDDY.

City Must Soon Install a Filtering Plant at the Power House.

Regarding the muddy water being delivered to the citizens these days the Bulletin this morning had an interview with the commissioner of public works in regard to the matter. Mr. Targreaves said:—

"It is a common thing here at this time of the year for the city water to be in its present condition. It lasts only a month or so, and the water is not injurious to the health. The river at this time of the year is very high, and filled with sediment. When the water is pumped through into the city tank, it is not thoroughly filtered."

"Are there no filters in use by the city?"

"No, the city has no filters. We have been depending upon the sedimentation basin at the power house. The basin is a very large one. The water is pumped into the basin from the river, and is supposed to settle there. When the river is at normal height, the water is always clear but for two months in the summer when the river is flooded, the sedimentation basin is not large enough to allow the extra quantity of sand and dirt to settle from the water properly. The commissioners and engineer have now under consideration the installation of a filtering system."

"What system of filtering will be installed?"

"That has not yet been decided. There are two methods, filtration by pressure, and surface, or natural filtration. In pressure filtration the water is pumped through pressurized filters before being pumped into the stand pipe. In surface filtration the water is turned into a reservoir which is drained from beneath, the water filtering through the sand and gravel. This is the most reliable system. The pressure system may get out of order, and the public be without filtered water for a time. Then the pressure filter requires cleaning very often. With the reservoir filtering, the public are always sure of the water. The installing of any system will be a big undertaking, and will necessitate an entire change of the waterworks site at the river. It will not be long, however, before steps are taken to install an up-to-date system of filtering."

CONFLICTS IN ST. PETERSBURG

(Special to The Bulletin.) St. Petersburg, July 21.—The capital witnessed Friday night scenes of the wildest turmoil following the first overt act of the government in enforcing the program it adopted in view of the passage by the Duma early Friday morning of the address to the people. The suppression of newspapers in the capital resulted in the closing of printing houses. This threw thousands of printers out of work and they held meetings. Thousands of revolutionaries joined the printers and the neighborhood was crowded with shouting masses. The police entirely lost control, were kicked and their uniforms torn from their backs. Cavalry was met with a shower of stones, and the horses stampeded, leaving the rioters in possession. The mob numbered thousands. Troops began to arrive from every direction, but were met with determined resistance. Fierce conflicts were in progress at a dozen points. Soldiers acted under strictest injunction to abstain from bloodshed. At midnight the crowd retired. Disorders were the fiercest seen in the city during the conflict between the government and the people.

Hayhurst 84; Pte. Smith 78; Capt. Skelden, 78. Sergt. Hayhurst's 84 gets him in the final stage.

DUKE VISITS THE CAN. CKS (Special to The Bulletin.) Blaisy, England, July 19.—The Duke of Connaught visited the Canadian pavilion and was received by Lord Strathcona and commandant. The Duke appeared greatly interested in the team as during the inspection he conversed briefly with each of the members, shaking hands with the officers. HAYHURST'S CHANCES. (Special to The Bulletin.) Blaisy, July 20.—Staff Sergt. Hayhurst, of the 13th regiment, of Hamilton, is Canada's dependence in the final stage of the King's prize, which will be shot tomorrow. Hayhurst is the only Canadian left in the competition, and is only twelve points behind the leader. The final stage calls for ten shots each at 500, 600 and 1,000 yards range, and while it is not likely that Hayhurst will make up the gap there is still a possibility that the Hamilton man will annex the big prize for the second time. Five Canadians shot in the second stage and four of them were knocked out.

SUMMER RESORT AT LAVOY.

Akasoo Lake Has Beautiful Beach—Is Located Near Railway Station.

Mr. Charles R. Hill, travelling freight agent of the C. N. R., was in the city today.

Mr. Hill has just returned from Lavo, a pretty station on the C. N. R. east of Vegreville. He says Lavo is quickly becoming popular as a summer resort, and has reported of the advantages of the place as such to Mr. Geo. Shaw, traffic manager, Winnipeg.

The proximity of this place to Edmonton and its location within two miles and a half from a beautiful lake, should make it popular with our citizens.

The lake is called the Akasoo lake and is reached by a scenic trail winding along the southwest base of Sick Man mountain, so called on account of some old Indian tradition. The lake has over five miles of low, sloping sandy beach, stretching into the water as gradually that children may bathe safely for a long distance from the shore. From Sick Man mountain a splendid view is obtained of the surrounding country.

The lake is six miles long by two miles wide, exclusive of several lagoons along the south and north side. The east side of Akasoo Beach is the most suitable for bathing, and erecting summer cottages. In a trip around the lake in the gasoline launch of the Akasoo Yacht club, Mr. Hill said that they raised not flocks, but clouds of wild duck and snipe. The summer visitors for a few years to come will have a veritable sportsman's paradise on this and the smaller surrounding lakes.

Black suckers and pickerel have been caught in the lake but the possibilities in the fishing line have not yet been fully tested.

There is a fine hotel at Lavo with as good accommodation and cuisine as is found between Edmonton and Winnipeg. Besides the hotel there are four general stores, two liverys, blacksmith shop, harness shop, three real estate offices and three implement agencies. The population is about one hundred.

Lavo is the headquarters of the Hydraulic Stone Manufacturing Company.

It is the intention of the C. N. R. system's officials to give cheap rates to this resort to those desiring a splendid week-end holiday.

Grand Trunk Pacific General Manager Says the West is Entitled to the Same Facilities as the East.

Winnipeg, July 20.—F. W. Morse, general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific, who arrived in Winnipeg from Montreal, definitely announced that an agreement had been made with McKenzie & Mann regarding the valuation to be placed upon their city terminal property and that they would join with them in building a magnificent union station in the heart of the city. Mr. Morse stated that the station would be by far the finest and largest in the Dominion. Mr. Morse said, "I am glad to be able to say that, having arrived at this point in our negotiations there is no reason why we should not have as fine a terminal as there will be in Canada for many years to come. And while the outlay will be great, in fact more than the present business will warrant, our confidence is such as to give us every cause in going the limit."

"How is construction work?" "Our line is under contract as far west as Edmonton, and work at different points is being proceeded with as rapidly as we can expect. We would be pleased, however, if we had more men and terminals available to reduce the time of construction. Our materials for the line from Winnipeg to Edmonton have been purchased and large quantities of it are in our yards and in transit."

BELMONT OLD TIMER GONE.

The death occurred at Belmont on June 27th of William Mitchell one of the old timers of the district. Mr. Mitchell was 53 years of age and came from Meaford Ont. seventeen years ago, coming overland from Medicine Hat in company with Messrs. Kennedy and Menzies of Poplar Lake. Deceased leaves a widow, one daughter and four sons, one of whom is a school teacher at the high school. A brother farming at Saskatoon, a sister in Carleton Place and three sisters in Ontario. The funeral took place to the Belmont cemetery on June 28th. The service being conducted by Rev. MAHARA'S MINSTRELS

The minstrel show last night was a successful performance and was greeted by a large house. Good singing of solo, quartet and chorus characterized the program. John Hill rendered an old favorite, "Asleep in the Deep," to the delight of everyone. Mr. Hill has a splendid deep, resonant bass voice. Not less popular with the crowd was Edward, a.e., in the Zulu travesty, "A Dream of Dahomy."

Leroy Bland deserves special mention in his Indian characterization of Chief and Nola exhibiting the truly romantic and passionate of the noble Redman.

John Pampin is a very prince of jugglers and introduced several new features that amazed the audience. All his acting is marked by alertness, strength and masterful precision. Either Mr. Pampin's or Mr. Bland's performances is alone worth the admission price. Among other features the unique unicyclist, Count deRoberto, has a place, as also James Harris, with his hoop routine.

The show is really good and deserves the patronage of the theatre-going public.

C. A. L. L.—TO MUSICIANS.

All persons playing band instruments, and those interested in any way in the formation of a band in Edmonton are requested to meet at the Windsor hotel at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow afternoon to talk matters over and lay out a plan of action. Each farmer has an order in for a certain amount, and today, July 21st, was the day set for the distribution of the twine. The Alberta Farmers' Association have also brought in about 24,000 pounds for the use of farmers in the Strathcona district.

Strathcona

Strathcona, July 20.—The picnic held yesterday on Walter's flat under the auspices of the ladies of St. Anthony's church was very largely patronized and a success. The town band were on the ground early in the evening and enlivened the proceedings with their selections. A general good time was spent by those present and a large financial surplus bears witness to the efforts of the ladies and managing committee.

They purpose taking in the Winnipeg exhibition, while Mr. Garbe goes on to Duluth to visit relatives before he starts for the Yellow Head Pass to engage in ranching there.

Mr. Garbe, farmer, Clover Bar, was in town today on business. He speaks very favorably of the hay and grain prospects in his region.

Undertaker Wainright shipped on the 4 p.m. train, the remains of A. P. Thompson, who was killed here this week on the C. P. R. track, to Fredrickton, N.B.

Ed Lyne, of the Gainer staff, returned home from B.C., where he took a car load of hogs for the firm. Mr. Lyne reports a good demand in the B.C. market for Alberta stock and a steadily increasing trade.

The Elliott Bros. lately from the U.S., have gone into the real estate business on Main street north, near Thompson and C.N.R. drug store. They have a new comfortable office and faith in Strathcona's future.

SportsRAIN SPOILED THE GAME.

The ball game to have been played last evening on Second street grounds between Calgary and Edmonton, was called off, the heavy thundershower just before 6 o'clock making the grounds too wet. A large sized puddle of muddy water at the home plate and the diamond in a very soft condition, was what the boys found when they landed at the grounds in their baseball togs. So they called it off, and a big crowd was disappointed. There will, instead, be two games today, this afternoon at 3 sharp and also this evening at 7.

A PROTEST.

To Editor Bulletin:
Dear Sir,—I notice by tonight's Bulletin you state that the game between Barbers and Bartenders was a defeat for the Bartenders by a score of 13 to 9. The umpire (undesignated) contradicts it. The game was a draw. I must also state that the Bartenders did not "sneak home by the back streets," but drove home in an automobile bus in a gentlemanly way, which was furnished for their benefit by the undersigned.

C. A. WAKY.

Calgary Herald: George Hendrick, a laborer, forty-five years of age, employed in digging a well for A. D. McDonald, at the corner of Fourteenth avenue and Fifth street east, died suddenly while at his work about half-past four yesterday afternoon. His absence was noted by his fellow-workmen about 5 o'clock and a search made which found his dead body at the bottom of the well, which was about ten feet deep. Dr. Mackie was hastily summoned and he pronounced death due to a stroke of apoplexy and a broken neck. The supposition is that the man fell in the well, breaking his neck in the fall.

Calgary Herald: An employee of Cushing's factory, J. Stover, met with a rather serious accident yesterday by falling into an elevator pit. His shoulders were badly bruised and it will be some time before he is able to resume work.

Calgary Herald: The agitation for a United States consul in Calgary, has at last resulted successfully. Yesterday Mr. Hotchkiss, an American from Independence, Wisconsin, arrived in the city, and he will be permanently located at Calgary.

Calgary Herald: The Calgary Milling company yesterday filed an application for a building permit with Building Inspector Smart for their new 1,000 barrel mill, to be built on the site adjoining their present mill. The plans call for a solid concrete building, 38 by 172 feet storeys in height. Estimated cost $22,000. These figures, of course, do not include the cost of plant and machinery.

THE LORD'S DAY ACT

One of the most important Acts placed on the statute books of the Dominion during the recent session of Parliament was the Lord's Day Act, a general Act designed to secure the observance of the Sabbath throughout the Dominion. Hereafter such legislation has been limited to the provincial legislatures. The federal act does not annul these provincial laws, but gives legal recognition to the national day of rest and covers many points left untouched by provincial laws. Generally the act prohibits the pursuit of gain on the Lord's Day and thus secures to every Canadian worker the right to one day's rest in seven. A summary of the provisions of the act are reproduced elsewhere and are well worth attention as some of the provisions are more far-reaching than is commonly known.

CARRYING COAL TO EDMONTON

Importing coal into Edmonton is about on a par with carrying the same article to Newcastle, and the city commissioners should be asked to explain to the council in detail the circumstances which led to an order being given for six cars of Bankhead coal for use in the city power house. In the same connection the council should take a look at the coal contract for the coming year and see that a recurrence of the present condition of affairs is guarded against.

According to the statements given the press by the commissioners the order for the Bankhead coal was given to relieve a stringency in the local market, but according to the Mays Coal Co., who held the contract for city coal last year, this scarcity of coal was apparent rather than real and existed because of a question of the price the commissioners were willing to pay for coal. According to these statements the Mays Company's contract for the past twelve months with the city called for the supply of approximately 4,000 tons, but as a matter of fact they supplied about 8,000 tons. This, they contended, fulfilled their contract, although the twelve months through which the contract was to run, had not entirely elapsed. Consequently, when the tenders were opened and the contract awarded for the coming year, the Mays Company declined to furnish more coal except at the price fixed by the new contract. Several local dealers were then asked by the commissioners to supply coal, but they declined on the ground that to fill a large transient order they would be forced to neglect regular customers and injure their trade. A miners' strike at the time tied up the new contractors and completed the complication. The commissioners then ordered the coal from Bankhead.

The trouble appears to have originated in a misunderstanding as to what constituted the fulfilment of the Mays Company's contract. The company contended that the additional amount they were called upon to supply relieved them from the obligation to observe the time limit; the commissioners, that the company were obliged to satisfy the requirements of the power house during the full year, regardless of how large the demand might be or might have been.

If as the Mays Company claim they were prepared to provide coal at the price named in the new contract the remedy adopted was not the best way out of the difficulty. The new price for local coal is very considerably less than that at which Bankhead coal can be laid down here and the stringency of the market was more likely to be speedily relieved by an order from a local mine than from a mine 300 miles away. In either event the commissioners had to assume the responsibility for purchasing coal at an advance on the old contract price. They should have been as willing to order local coal at the new contract price as coal from a distance at a considerably higher price.

There is besides the moral effect abroad of the report that "Edmonton is importing coal," for this may be relied on as about the form in which the incident will be presented to readers throughout the country. Edmonton has suffered in the past from misrepresentation founded on much less truth than exists in the present case, and the reports abroad that we are importing coal need not excite wonder if they are devoid of explanation as to why we are doing so. The natural conclusion the stranger would draw from such a garbled report would be either that Edmonton has no coal resources or that the quality is inadequate for developing power—either of which conclusions is about as far from the truth as possible. It is of far more consequence to Edmonton that the extent and quality of its coal resources be not misrepresented abroad than that the city pay the new contract price for the coal necessary to tide over until the new contract begins.

The council would do well to look into the matter and see that there is no misunderstanding as to whether the new contract will hold for the full specified time or whether it can be considered to have been satisfied by the delivery of more than the nominal quantity called for.

Why low-priced Teas

are really extravagant

Because so much more of them is required to the cup than high grade tea like

Blue Ribbon

As a rule it takes about a third more cheap tea than of Blue Ribbon. In other words, three pounds of Blue Ribbon Tea will go about as far as four pounds of the 35c or 35c tea. So Blue Ribbon Tea is really the most ECONOMICAL.

AND AS FOR FLAVOR there is no comparison. Cheap inferior teas can never have the rich, smooth flavor and refreshing fragrance of Blue Ribbon Tea. If you have been using "cheap" tea, try one pound of Blue Ribbon and notice the difference. Lead tins 46c and 56c a pound.

Journalists Visit Edmonton

Jackson Elliott, the Associated Press. Herbert Vanderhoof, secretary, is in charge of the party, for the Western Canada Immigration association; George H. Ham is representing the Canadian Pacific railway, and Cy. Warman the Canadian Northern. H. R. Charlton, of the Grand Trunk, met the correspondents at Buffalo, and accompanied them over the lines of that company.

The Winnipeg Free Press gives the following notes about the members of the party:—

Richard H. Lindsay, of Missouri, correspondent for the Kansas City Star, described as the man who overthrew the infamous Louisiana lottery, and one of the best known newspaper men in the country, is acting as dean of the party, representing them in an unofficial way. To the Free Press Mr. Lindsay spoke of the great pleasure with which the correspondents had visited the portion of eastern Canada which they had traversed, and the interest with which they looked forward to the journey to the coast. At Fort William and Port Arthur he had inspected the elevators, and had noted the numerous evidences of development and progress.

"You seem to have all the east buffed, you people up in the west," said Mr. Lindsay to the Free Press. "In Fort William and Port Arthur, and in Ottawa and Montreal every body told us about Winnipeg, its wonderful growth, advancement and prosperity. We will spend the better part of two days in the city and will endeavor to learn all we can in a quiet way about the prosperity and growth of the town."

Jackson Elliott, the young man who represents the Associated Press, came originally from Iowa, the great state which has sent so many brilliant men into the national life of the United States. His work in Washington is on the senate side and his success as a newspaper man has been most marked.

Maurice Spaulin, of the Pittsburg Post, and the Philadelphia Record is known as the clerical representative in the company. Mr. Spaulin was educated for the Episcopal ministry, but eventually made choice of journalism as a life work. Among important political questions to which he stands committed is that of the abolition of the United States senate. In common with many other Americans he regards the body as autocratic, no longer representative of the people, and a being too much under the control of large corporations.

Jesse L. Carmichael, of the Detroit Free Press, the Los Angeles Times, the San Francisco Bulletin is described as the most mild mannered man in the party. He is a Michigan birth, and all his work was done there until he went to Washington.

William S. Couch, of the Cleveland Plaindealer, represents the most powerful independent paper in Ohio, the Plaindealer having no party affiliations. In the last election, the Plaindealer made a most vigorous fight against the state Republican machine, and assisted materially in the election of Governor Pattison, the first Democratic governor in many years. In this campaign Mr. Couch covered the entire state, overseeing all the outside work for the paper.

Irving C. Norwood covers the house of representatives for the Washington Star, and writes a humorous column for that paper under the name "Uncle Jasper." His friends declare that he also writes very large quantities of poetry, but that the Star has never consented to furnish the use of its columns for its publication.

Angus McSweeney, of the Philadelphia North American, is described as a reformer. During the last session of congress he was very actively engaged in investigating the question of the government control of railway rates, sustaining President Roosevelt in every way.

W. G. Miller does the floor of the senate for the Scripps McRae and the Publishers' Press association, supplying news to hundreds of newspapers throughout the United States.

D. H. McAdam, of the St. Louis Republic, is spoken of as an artist and poet. A peculiarity of the Republic is that contrary to what its name would seem to imply, it is a straight Democratic paper. It was called the Republican long before there was a Republican party, having been founded almost one hundred years ago. In later years, it has dropped the last syllable of its name. The Globe Democrat, of St. Louis, also conveys an erroneous impression in its name, the paper being the leading Republican organ of Missouri.

Thomas J. Pence, of the Raleigh News and Observer, is the only southerner in the party, and is commonly described as "Pitch Fork" Pence, his method of expression being somewhat similar to that of the famous senator of South Carolina. He is among the best informed men in the country on the race question, and has shown the greatest possible hostility to President Roosevelt owing to his attitude on this subject.

Edward G. Lowry, of the New York Evening Post, is said to be the real journalist of the party. The Post requires a calm, dispassionate, full statement of events, being a journal of the most conservative and reliable nature. Mr. Lowry has done this work to the full satisfaction of his paper and its readers, and enjoys the fullest respect and regard of his fellow correspondents.

Cy Warman, the well known author of many railway stories, is with the party again this year, as bright and brisk as ever. Speaking of the visitors to the city he said:

"The yield this year is not up to last year's yield, but it grades No. 1 hard. There is not a tough one in the lot."

"Irving C. Norwood represents the Washington Star, a very important paper, being independent in politics and published in Washington, D.C. Angus McSweeney, of the Philadelphia North American, is a strenuous writer who has been one of the strong seconds to President Roosevelt's railway war. Edward J. Lowry is an able and very forceful representative of the New York Evening Post, a great financial authority among our New York newspapers. Richard H. Lindsay, of the Kansas City Star, that has twinned or a quarter of a century over the middle west, and which owes a lot of its twinkle to this same Dick Lindsay, as his comrades call him, Mr. Lindsay it was who wrecked the little Louisiana lottery, and drove it out of Kansas. Wilbur G. Miller is a very important member of his distinguished company, not only because he is a brilliant writer, but because he writes for the Scripps-McRae Press Association. Jesse L. Carmichael, who had never seen out of Detroit until he went to Washington to send things back to the Free Press, and who had not seen out of Washington since his arrival, is on board the "Hazel-nore." We were all glad to have Jesse as a sort of heaven to the lot, or all his life he has taken a great interest in the Y. M. C. A. and similar diversions. He is an anti-cigar crusader, and could not distinguish between a Scotch highball and golf—at times. Those who read his signed dispatches in the Detroit Free Press and the Los Angeles Times, know how well he can write. William S. Couch is an enthusiastic, industrious and bright young journalist. He sends his stuff to the Cleveland Plaindealer, which being close to Canada, pays attention to Canadian affairs. Maurice Spaulin, of the Pittsburg Post, is another of these writers who has a national reputation and who talks as well as writes. Jackson Elliott, perhaps one of the youngest, but, I may add, among the brightest of the party, represents that great news distributing agency called the Associated Press.

"D. H. MacAdam," continued Mr. Varman, "once furnished a description of himself as follows: 'D. H. MacAdam is my name and I am 27 years old. Was born in St. Louis, Mo. Father Irish; mother Yankee. Went to public and high schools, and was invited by the faculty to desist from a college education at the end of the freshman year, being charged with various crimes and misdemeanors. Started out then to be Michael Angelo No. 2. Studied art for four years, mostly at the St. Louis School of Fine Arts, and was awarded several bronze medals, since they always gave medals to keep patronage. Was compelled at the tender age of 21 to earn a living, but there was no money in the Michael Angelo game. Pa said he'd see me damned before he'd let me go in the newspaper business; he'd be there himself. I was damned all right. I retired out on the St. Louis Republic on Jan. 1, 1900, a coincidence, are to everlastingly distinguish the first day of the new century. Beginning at the bottom, working with unflinching industry, my persistent and conscientious endeavor finally brought me up to the point where my predecessor as Washington correspondent died suddenly. My editor, a most lovable soul, said to me: 'MacAdam, I am tired of seeing your lugubrious countenance around this office. Hike out for Washington and stay there or die suddenly or quit suddenly.' I hiked. That's all."

"During my trip last year," said Mr. Warman, "I purchased four thousand acres of land for the correspondents who came west in that party. We got some very fine land, at a low price, being let in on the ground floor. This land has now increased considerably in value, and during our present visit to the west I expect to dispose of all of it to western buyers, all of the land having been placed unreservedly in my hands for sale."

TEAM BRING CHALLENGE CUP

Edmonton Riflemen Won Skirmishing Match at Calgary Meet

Calgary, July 20.—In the Grand Aggregate match shot on Thursday afternoon, A. Martin of Calgary was winner with 453 out of a possible 550 points; L. D. Macdonald, Calgary second and R. M. Fox, Calgary third. The ten highest in the match constituted the team to represent the province of Alberta at the D.R.A. matches at Ottawa. Besides those named are F. E. Young, Rex Young and H. A. Hewes of Elbow River, Sgt. Major Hat, J. Reid, Little Red Deer, J. Carmichael, Edmonton, with several others on the waiting list.

On Friday morning the military match was shot, which was won by Sgt. McLeod R.N.W.M.P. with 93 points second Corp. Young 15th Light Horse Calgary, 93 points and 3rd Quarter Master Sgt. Carmichael C.M.R. Edmonton, 90 points. Sgt. McNaughton of Edmonton also appears on the prize list.

In the 5th Regiment C.M.R. skirmishing match the Edmonton team captained by G. A. Reid and consisting of Messrs. Weekes, McNaughton, and Bissett in addition to the captain won with 31 hits out of a possible 40 at 600 and 800 yards. Travelling 400 yds. and firing 10 shots each, Bissett having all ten shots on the target and had values been counted could have had 41 points out of a possible 50, a phenomenal score when it is considered that it had to be done in a time limit of five minutes. The team takes home the challenge trophy valued at $200.00 and $20.00 in cash, the winners of this cup for the last two years. The Elbow River team were third, with 23 hits and the team captained by S. S. Trezz, Calgary were second, with the same number of hits. The meet was wound up by a smoker and presentation of prizes at the R.N.W.M.P. barracks, while the attendance has not been as large as was hoped for the competitions have been much less than ever before and the team selected to represent the province at Ottawa will do so worthily.

GOOD PICNIC AT MORINVILLE

Addresses by Hon. W. H. Cushing
J. R. Boyle, M.P.P. and Prominent Local Men

The picnic held at Morinville last Wednesday was a most successful affair. Over fifteen hundred people attended. The picnic was under the auspices of the Canadian branch of the American Society of Equity.

Speeches were given by Hon. W. H. Cushing, Messrs. Guibault, Noel, Wallace, and J. R. Boyle, M.P.P.

Mr. Wallace of Clearwater, spoke on the aims and policy of the society. Mr. J. R. Boyle, M.P.P., gave a review of the work done by the Alberta Government in passing legislation primarily calculated to benefit and assist the farmers. He discussed the automobile bill, the telephone regulation and the taxation of railways.

The Hon. W. H. Cushing, Minister of Public Works, on rising to speak, thanked the assembly for the cordial reception with which he was greeted. He stated he did not attend the picnic to make a speech, but to have the great pleasure of mingling with the people of the district and becoming acquainted with them, and ascertain their needs in the line of work that was being carried out by the department he had the honor to preside over. Although a resident of this great province for many years it was the first time that he had got beyond St. Albert, and he congratulated those present on the splendid country in this part of Alberta, and on the prosperous appearance of those at the gathering.

"I was pleased to notice on the way out that the crops were looking splendid, and the indications point all over our province that we will be blessed with a bounteous harvest. If the tillers of the soil obtain abundant results from their labors then all parts of society will reap their share."

"I agree with the speaker of the previous speaker Mr. Watson, that the farmers of this province should be united to obtain the best results of their labor. Not any particular section, there is too much sectionalism, one section against another. The interests of the entire province ought to be the interests of every citizen in this province."

"I have the honor to represent the department of public works, a very important department in this great country. Perhaps many of you have some particular need in your locality. It is such all over this province, from the boundary line on the south to the Peace River on the north, and we are trying to grapple with this problem of securing for the farmer proper means of transportation. Driving over the road today from Edmonton I noticed that the road needs a great deal of work on it to make it passable to haul loads over. Now that is one piece of road I might state in this province, and there are many such highways in the same condition as this particular one, but we are giving our best thought and attention to this question in order that the settlers and farmers may have roads comfortable to travel over. When a settler takes up his abode in this country he does not look for good roads, but fertile land, and then he finds he is up against the problem how he is to get to market with his products, and we are endeavoring as far as our ability and means go to provide the necessary assistance. We cannot do it all at once but we are trying to meet the immediate necessities of all the people of this fair province in this regard in the shortest possible time. We have five or six gangs working on roads in this constituency of St. Albert, and expect there will be one or two more as soon as the work can be laid out, and I may add that as a Government we are doing our best and will continue so to do in order that we may meet the pressing needs of all the people of Alberta in the least possible time."

In concluding a splendid speech which aroused frequent applause, Mr. Cushing referred to what had been done by the Government in regard to the creamery industry so that the farmer might obtain the best price for his products when the market is most favorable.

Port Saskatchewan and Morinville played baseball, the former winning 9 to 3. Some of the spectators were of the opinion that Morinville could give Edmonton a hot chase and could certainly put it over Calgary.

A football match between Clover Bar and Morinville ended in a victory for Clover Bar.

The visitors were unanimous in their praise of the splendid refreshments furnished by the good people of Morinville.

Farmer's PageFARM NOTES

According to the Government's crop bulletin the acreage of oats in Alberta is 322,923 acres which are estimated to yield 13,000,000 bushels.

The barley acreage is 55,678 acres estimated to yield 2,141,802 bushels.

HOW TO GET RID OF CUT WORMS

Mr. Alex McEay of Horse Hills contributed to the Free Press the following notes on how to get rid of cut worms.

"One year ago I had about 60 acres summer fallowed and harrowed three times. This spring I disked it once and gave it one stroke of the harrow. About April 15 I sowed 13 acres with wheat, the balance with oats. In about two weeks the grain was up and made a good showing, but was attacked by cut worms and by May 15, not a spear of wheat or oats could be seen. I sowed about 20 acres of oats adjoining fallowed land. Only a dry creek bottom lay between. When this grew about two inches the cut worms crossed the bed of the dry creek through grass, and in 24 hours they cleaned up about five acres. I hitched up a team on a sulky plow and let it down to the last notch, and ploughed a furrow across the field about four yards in among the growing oats. Next morning I went out to see if they had crossed the furrow. I found them nearly all marching east along the furrow in millions. I watched and saw that few were able to climb up out of the furrow. I went to the east end of the furrow and found that they were swinging around from one end of furrow into the grain. I headed them off again with another short furrow and dug a pit about 18 inches deep, wider at the bottom than top, so that when they got in they could not climb out again. Next morning I found the pit nearly half full. I took straw and cremated them. I plowed again two deep furrows and covered up millions. Next morning I still found them marching along the bottom of the furrow, and found again my pit half full. I dug holes along the bottom of furrow about 50 yards apart, the length of field, and had the satisfaction of capturing them as fast as they came along the furrow. Today, June 25, very few are to be seen. The 13 acres of wheat is coming up again (which they ate down), and looks as if it will be a fair crop. But the oats they ate down never grew again. I have sowed oats and barley on this place again about a week ago, and both are showing above the ground already. The barley will ripen and the oats will make green feed."

"This was the only way to get a crop, to wait till the worms were changed into the moth stage. Perhaps this record will help some one to be able to fight the pests and destroy them and keep them from becoming more numerous."

She is scheduled to reach this city on August 1. It is Baron Komura's intention to travel across Canada, sailing from Montreal for Liverpool.

AMERICAN NEWSPAPER MEN ARE COMING.

(Special to the Bulletin)
Winnipeg, Man., July 19.—Another large party of newspaper men will tour Canada practically from coast to coast. During the present week they will meet at Montreal and proceed via the Canadian Pacific railway to the west, arriving in Winnipeg about July 23. The Western Canada Immigration Association has organized the tour and during their trip the newspaper men will be the guests of this body. Last year the immigration association took out a similar party and the result was many of the largest publications on the continent contained articles on the Canadian West. Amongst those who will be with the party are the following well known newspaper writers:

Hastings McAdam, St. Louis Republic; Richard V. Oulahan, New York Sun; Angus McQueen, Philadelphia North American; Thomas J. Penne, Raleigh News and Observer; E. C. Lowry, New York Post; B. H. Lindsay, Kansas City Star; Wilbur C. Buttler, Scripps-McRae League Association; J. L. Carmichael, Detroit Free Press; W. S. Couch, Cleveland Plaindealer; Maurice Spain, Pittsburg Post; J. P. Miller, Baltimore Sun, and Jackson Elliot, Associated Press. George H. Ham will accompany these correspondents.

DRUNKS ESCAPE JAIL FOR WANT OF ACCOMMODATION

(Special to the Bulletin)
Port William, Ont., July 19.—When the casual drunk comes before the magistrate in this town he smiles blandly at the "three dollars and costs or 30 days in jail" handed down by the magistrate for he well knows there is no jail accommodation for him. Accommodation of the necessary kind is totally exhausted here and in the neighboring towns of Knora and Port Arthur, and there is nothing to be done about let the prisoners go free if he has not the "three." Some six weeks ago the Canadian Pacific Railway had a breakdown, at their own gang of men, discovering case goods in the wreck, conveyed more than a sufficient quantity into the bush with definite results of a legal character in the sequel. The offenders got three months. Ten of them were enough to fill the Knora jail and eighteen more brought out the sign "standing room only" in the corridor of the Port Arthur jail and as a result all the "three or thirty" men get off until the jail is empty, providing, of course they are minus the necessary three. There is a big territory round here which stretches for several hundreds of miles in each direction and as the country is unorganized there is no county jail, but efforts are now being made to remedy this evil.

A MISSING MAN

Pere H. Got, the French cleric, who hails from the department of Tarn-et-Garonne is in the city searching for some knowledge of the whereabouts of his brother, the Cure Noel Got, says the Vancouver News-Advertiser, who was last heard of in May, 1905. Pere Got carried with him a letter from his brother dated Vancouver, April 9, 1905, and he thinks that after going north he may possibly have returned here, but so far as he has been able to find no trace of him.

The missing man was a Roman Catholic missionary, who after having tholic missionary, who after having carried on the work of his mission for seven years in China became broken down in health and decided to return to his home in France.

He crossed Japan, took passage on a steamer for San Francisco where he arrived on April 10, 1905, and shortly after proceeded to Vancouver. From here he wrote to the head of his order stating that he was too ill to continue his work and that a long rest was imperative. It is believed that in those far away countries he changed his ecclesiastical dress for that of a layman.

In writing to his friends at home he mentioned the fact that he intended going to a cold region, possessing a pure atmosphere as he was sure it would be beneficial to his pulmonary state of health. He also expressed a desire to see gold miners, Indians, Eskimoes, and the land of the midnight sun.

Nothing has been heard of him since May, 1905. From his letters it is inferred that he travelled in the Canadian Northwest, so as to be able to descend the Porcupine river and the Yukon as far as St. Michael's bay. Researches in the Yukon having proved unsuccessful, it is now suggested that he may have taken an easterly route.

When last heard of he was in Skagway from there it is thought that he may have gone in the direction of Dease Lake, following the Dease river to the Laird, and then down the Mackenzie. He may have lost himself—or in the state of his health may have got worse—or he may have become the victim of an accident.

The chances of finding him would appear to be greatest in the Mackenzie district. It is possible that he may have been seen in the neighborhood of Fort Simpson, Good Hope and McPherson.

If the Oven Cooks $\frac{1}{3}$ Faster, the Fuel Burned is $\frac{1}{3}$ Less

The little scuttle shows how little fuel is needed by the Happy Thought compared with others.

Here's a chance to see the "reason why" a Happy Thought is the best cooking range before you buy it. The more heating surface, the less time required to do the cooking—and the less time the less fuel. The corrugated oven-lining is as quickly heated through as an ordinary flat lining and gives one-third more surface for radiating heat.

In burning wood, the little pile equals the big pile, if you use a Happy Thought.

Canada's Trade With Japan

(By Mr. G. Mcase, Imperial Consul General of Japan for the Dominion of Canada.)

Prior to the year 1895 the export Canadian products to Japan was so insignificant that no special mention would be necessary, in the year following total export was only $8,000. But since then there was a steady increase in all lines of merchandise, especially in the dry-salt pickled salmon, which exportation was first tried in 1897 by an enterprising Japanese merchant by the name of Mr. S. Tamura, in Vancouver, B. C., with remarkably good success; but real and wholesome increase did not come until the year 1903, when, as the result of the practical and business-like demonstrations made by the Canadian government in connection with the Osaka exhibition held in that year, one hundred and forty-two thousand dollars' worth of Canadian goods made from Manitoba hard wheat, which was shipped to Japan in 1904, with the result that total export from Canada, in that year amounted to the sum of $242,000. The year 1905 has shown a further increase in the exportation of flour and salmon, the total export for the year being $920,000, the record broken so far.

It is quite pleasing to note that within the last ten years, starting with only $8,000 in 1895 we have now worked up to over half a million mark, with further prospect of this amount being doubled in the next five years or even less.

The fact that the Japanese are fast becoming consumers of both flour and meats, while remaining as great fish eaters, can be proved by the following figures, that they, during the years 1903 and 1904 (calendar year), imported from both the United States of America and Canada:

Flour—	1903.	1904.
From U. S. A.	$5,050,000	$4,672,000
From Canada	140,000	162,000
From others...	15,000	35,000
Salmon—
From Russia...	740,000	49,000
From Canada	158,000	149,000
From U. S. A.	110,000	139,000
Milk (Condensed)—
From U. S. A.	229,000	315,000
From Canada	3,000	425
From Australia	7,000
From G. Brit'n	184,000	167,000
Butter and Cheese—
From U. S. A.	28,500	26,500
From Canada	3,000	6,250
From Australia	15,000	12,500

Meats—
From U. S. A. 170,000 $755,000
From Canada 58,000
In all other staple goods, which are exported from the United States, Canada is in a position to take a share with equal advantage. The following articles are the principal staple goods exported from the United States to Japan in 1903 and in 1904, besides that already stated above:

	1903.	1904.
Wheat	$800,000	$825,000
Hides & leathers	450,000	1,055,000
Pulp	315,000	24,000
Cardboard	340,000	24,000
Paper	224,000	525,000
Alcohol	210,000	125,000
Biscuits	450,000	200,000
Tobacco	540,000	725,000
Lumber	205,000	212,000
Fertilizer	150,000	145,000
Lubricating oil	240,000	250,000
Paraffin wax	480,000	615,000
Ham and bacon	42,000	23,500
Coal oil	6,000,000	5,600,000
Wool	1,150,000	940,000
Underwear	37,000	65,000

Of course the United States has a long standing of over forty years in their export trade to Japan, but it is only of late years that their export trade has reached to such gigantic figures, for thirty years ago, in 1873, their export trade to Japan only amounted to $500,000. In 1885 to $1,500,000; in 1893 to $3,000,000, and in 1904, it reached to $29,580,000, over sixteen per cent. of Japan's total imports from the foreign countries, yet the Americans appear not to have been fully satisfied with their success, as one Mr. Walter J. Ballard, of Schenectady, N.Y., has said in his report: "We have some encouragement, however, in the fact that our sales to Japan increased 120 per cent. within the last ten years, while those from most European countries fell off."

He has further said: "Canada's sales to Japan at present are only 1 per cent. of the value of ours, but the fine showing made by Canada at the Osaka exhibition (which we so lamentably neglected) may do us greater damage later. Canada's chief export is flour. So far the United States has been furnishing about 96 per cent. of Japan's flour importations."

Mr. James J. Hill, of the Great Northern railway, has also said in connection with his shipment of flour to Japan as follows: "It is only the want of American ships which prevents our entire surplus wheat crop being shipped to and sold in the Orient mainly in the form of flour. Will Congress please note that point? The winners, in the order named, in our last year's sales to Japan, were raw cotton, kerosene and wheat flour."

All these remarks, seriously taken by the American businessmen, tend toward the aggressive extension of the flour trade to the Orient, especially to Japan. I know no reason why the Canadian farmers and merchants decline to join in this prospective trade across the Pacific. Indeed Mr. Hill, a year ago, with this view in hand had two twenty-six thousand ton steamers built to carry his cargo across the Pacific. This gigantic undertaking, to a certain extent, was taken to be a reckless and hasty attempt, but since the steamers had been placed on the line there came a constant flow of cargo from all parts of the United States and even from Canada that the company had often to refuse shipment. There is no doubt that Mr. Hill's Great Northern railway systems, with their headquarters at Minneapolis and St. Paul, are in a very advantageous position to control the shipment of both Minnesota and Dakota flours as well as that of Oregon and Washington states, but the fact is that without the Oriental trade, his railways and steamers might have never become such a well paying concern. It is also true that the Oriental trade has helped to a great extent the rapid growth of these cities and towns along the line; Seattle, for example, has outgrown the most of Canadian cities on the Pacific coast. She had a population of only but 26,000 in 1890, now she is credited with 120,000. It is also a significant fact that with the growth of the city of Seattle the Japanese trade was diverted from San Francisco to Seattle within the last ten years. San Francisco used to be the only gateway of the American trade to the Orient, but the growth of Japanese trade resulted to a great extent in favor of Seattle and caused the constant falling off with San Francisco. San Francisco's export trade to Japan amounted to $334,000 in 1892, while Seattle had then only $38,000. But in 1901 against San Francisco's $3,400,000 Seattle handled $5,000,000. While Seattle had been reaping great profit out of her Japan trade it is with great regret I notice that both Vancouver and Victoria have not made any notable progress in the trade, their population remains pretty much the same as it was ten years ago, as the population of Vancouver, which was 13,000 in 1891, only increased to 26,000 in 1901 and that of Victoria was only 20,000 in 1901 against 16,000 in 1891.

Should the same policy be followed by the Canadians as the Americans a decade ago, the export trade of Canada to Japan might have been by this time increased by tenfold. It is most essential for the Canadians to adopt an aggressive policy on the Japanese trade, as they will be placed under the same advantages, after Canada has entered into a new convention with Japan on the same basis as that between Japan and Great Britain, Japan giving Canada the conventional tariff favor and Winnipeg will be able to enjoy the same advantages as Minneapolis and St. Paul, and Vancouver and Victoria as Seattle and Tacoma, while Regina, Calgary and Edmonton will all share in the great trade prospects. There is a strong point west of the Canadian provinces west of Winnipeg should naturally control the Oriental trade, many advantages being offered them, such as flour and wheat from Manitoba, cheese and butter, milk and meats, hides and wool, from the newly created provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan, and lumber, pulp, paper, fish, hops, meats, fruits and mineral products from British Columbia.

I dare say that once the Canadian North-West and British Columbia are fully developed with cheap labor and the capacity of transportation across the continent and ocean are doubled with the completion of the Grand Trunk Pacific and Mr. Hill's systems, Canada would be in a position to compete with the American goods in the Oriental markets, as the Canadian products are identical with that of the Americans, and better in quality. It only requires the consistent action and liberal advertisement of Canada and her products to effect the development of the Japan market.

The contribution of $85,000 worth of wheat flour toward the famine-stricken millions in the north-eastern parts of Japan was a masterstroke on the part of the Dominion government toward advertising Canada in Japan, as such deeds will print in the sufferers' mind an everlasting memory of both gratitude and friendship. Another contribution of over $30,000 from various sources in Canada will also give, not only to the one million sufferers, but also to the forty-five millions of Japanese, a better knowledge of Canada, which will tend to the growth of trade and commerce in favor of Canada.

The Japanese residents in British Columbia, with their characteristic resourcefulness in industrial development, have tried and succeeded in many ways in turning the natural waste into valuable saving, even into the most important merchandise. It is the Japanese who first started shipping to Japan the dog and hump-backed salmon from British Columbia. The fish were never before considered by the British Columbians as marketable. The total export out of this "waste" last year amounted to $244,700, prepared by 610 Japanese fishermen, who owned 167 houses, 1,100 boats with 1,500 nets, with an aggregate capital of $250,000. They have also started on the Skeena river making the canned clams, which was never touched by the "white" people for the exportation to Japan. Also sea slugs and fish roe are now prepared by them for the Oriental market. There was also a guano and fertilizer factory, started by Japanese, which once made very extensive use of herrings, which had come in the season swarming over the sea and which were left to meet their natural death, into fertilizer and exported to Japan to the amount of $16,500 in 1905, but this important industry was refused, last year, to the Japanese by the Dominion government in preference to the "white people" and the industry has since, I regret to say, dropped off. This man, undaunted by this failure through the political interference, crossed over to Queen Charlotte Island and has started a new industry, in the hope that he would be free there from further interference. Should British Columbia follow that wise and far sighted policy of her southern neighbors across the boundary and allow the Japanese to develop their local industries she might have gained by this time some share in her Oriental trade as that of her rivals. It is, however, gratifying that of late the British Columbians have awakened from their long slumber and began turning their interests toward development of the trade in Japan instead of agitating against a handful of harmless Japanese in the provinces. With this new departure from their policy a new feature has been started in their Japanese trade, as we notice that a number of new items have been added to the Canadian exports in 1905—which can be proved by the following table:

Iron and steel, etc.	$ 1,350
Kitchen utensils, etc.	3,050
Books, etc.	200
Animals	12,500
Pulp	9,000
Lumber	55,213
Bicycles, etc.	5,415
Furniture	200
Metal manufactures	41,482
Arms and ammunition	900
Canned goods	8,855
Leather	3,782
Gloves	70
Clothing	67,615
Jewelry	75
Fertilizers	16,546
Milk and cream	1,278
Glasses	150
Soap	1,200
Pianos	300
Whisky and wines	78
Biscuits, etc.	60

Many of these items were never before imported into Japan from the Dominion. Though the amount is insignificant, it shows the fact that there is a market in Japan for these goods, if only the Canadians care to cultivate her trade. The drawback the Canadian goods has met so far in Japan—the tariff barrier—will be taken off by the time the new convention is ratified by the two high contracting parties. Ten years ago the late Senator Ogilvie scorned my idea of the Canadian exportation of Manitoba flour. Just ten years later, in 1904, 43,300 barrels of the best grade of Manitoba flour were exported to prove that I was not mistaken in my idea. I hope what I am talking just now may turn out all right in 1915 or even earlier. The commercial development and industrial growth in the empire of Japan were simply amazing, and it is only beyond one's conjecture why Canada has not taken advantage of such marvelous chances. The total imports of foreign merchandise into Japan 25 years ago, in 1881, was but only fifteen million dollars, the United States sharing five and a half per cent. of the total import and with Canada none at all. With the growth of wealth and increase of buying capacity among the Japanese after their war with China the imports increased to one hundred and eighty-five million dollars, in 1904, with the United States sharing sixteen per cent. and Canada with less than one-half per cent. However small the share is for Canada this is her credit that she has had any claim in the world's export trade with Japan.

The fact that the Japanese are becoming steady consumers of wheat flour and meats is also beyond discussion, and also a matter of great marvel as it was only within the last ten years that the United States began sending Japan her wheat products from Dakota, Minnesota and Oregon and Washington having sent only seventy-one thousand dollars' worth in 1898, but since then increasing by leaps and bounds, until she sent us in 1903 five million dollars' worth and in 1904 four and three-quarters of a million.

Japan, starting with fresh vigor in her national industry, with a laboring classes and with a higher standard of living, has already found that she has not got enough of her own rice, meat and fish to feed her forty-five millions and has to depend upon foreign supply. Canada is most advantageously situated between her mother country, across the Atlantic and her mother's ally across the Pacific. Both the mother and her ally must depend upon Canada as their granary. As to the trade relations while Canada, east of Winnipeg, belongs to the Atlantic trade, that section west of Winnipeg or Great Lakes should naturally belong to the Pacific trade. This will give the British Columbian most enviable opportunity to grasp the ocean trade between Canada and Japan with her inexhaustible resources, with immense market, ready to get everything Canada may produce with equal quantity and valuation as her rivals across the southern boundary had been supplying our market.

I may safely say that the new era has just begun with Canada's Oriental trade. Mr. Choate has said that the 20th century would belong to Canada and I may add to his appropriate remarks by saying that the 20th century's Oriental trade will also belong to Canada.

THE GILBRETH SYSTEM

AND THE

COST-PLUS-A-FIXED-SUM CONTRACT

AND THEIR ADVANTAGES TO

ARCHITECTS AND ENGINEERS

In every building operation there are three parties, the owner, the architect or engineer, and the contractor. To get the best results in any construction work it is evident that the architect and contractor must co-operate to the fullest extent. Proper co-operation is impossible when an architect is forced to work with a contractor who skimps his building or who employs inferior materials. Moreover, under such conditions, the structure is bound to suffer and the architect is sure to come in for a big share of the blame. Unsatisfactory results like these occur with great frequency in work done on the lump-sum basis, because the lump-sum contractor, to save himself from loss, often resorts to makeshifts at the expense of the architect's reputation and the owner's pocket. In other words, the lump-sum contractor often works against the interests of architect and owner.

The cost-plus-a-fixed-sum contract by eliminating this division of interest, assures co-operation between contractor and architect. The cost-plus-a-fixed-sum contract fixes the contractor's profit at the start and thereby removes from him all temptation to do any but the most satisfactory work. His interest is thus made one with the architect's, since both are trying to produce the best results. Naturally the owner reaps the benefit of this unity of effort.

The Gilbreth System has been developed to utilize the cost-plus-a-fixed-sum contract to maximum advantage. It is a system of organized co-operation perfected by years of experience. It is a system under which red tape is eliminated, the maximum of result is obtained, and speed, economy and efficiency are made dependable quantities.

Under this system the architect finds that the co-operation assured by the cost-plus-a-fixed-sum contract extends throughout the entire work of construction. This is why the Gilbreth System and the cost-plus-a-fixed-sum contract appeal so powerfully to architects and engineers, and also why any architect or engineer who has worked with us once is pleased to work with us again.

We solicit an opportunity to explain our system in detail to architects and engineers particularly and to owners generally.

NEW LORD'S DAY ACT

Secretary of Lord's Day Alliance Gives An Official Pronouncement
on the New Measure

At the session of Parliament just closed an Act was passed entitled the Lord's Day Act. Mr. J. G. Shearer, secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance at whose initiative the bill was introduced, has contributed to the press the following official statement of how the Act is regarded by the Alliance.

"Already very different estimates have appeared in the public press.
Some have said the Act is dead, others that it is useless, on the one hand; and on the other, there are those who consider it the best Lord's Day Act on the statute books of any country; others that it is in many particulars over stringent. The truth lies between the two extremes. We have not secured all we sought. The Act has been weakened in certain particulars but on the whole it is a good Act. It is an immense gain over what we had before. It covers the points that were left uncovered in our old Provincial Act which still remain in force. It is much more sweeping than perhaps many people recognize.

"In the first place it is an immense advantage that we have a Lord's Day Act for the whole Dominion which recognizes the Lord's Day as a national institution; the tolling of a great liberty; the church's day of glorious opportunity. This in itself is a gain worth all the effort.

"In the second place, the new Act makes all Sunday trading unlawful,
and all work for remuneration except work that is declared to be works of necessity and mercy. It prohibits all Sunday theatres and public games, sports and amusements for gain, or prize or reward. It bans the Sunday newspaper, home produced or foreign, making unlawful its publication or impression, its sale or distribution. These are among the worst forms of desecration of the Lord's Day in other countries, and to some extent they have been finding a foothold in Canada. The new Act will prevent their continuance or development.
This again is worth all the effort.

"But in the third place, the Act applies to companies and corporations, putting them under heavy penalties for authorizing, directing and permitting any work, other than works of necessity or mercy, to be done on Sunday, whether their business or industry. The old provincial acts made the poor workman liable to their penalties, but did not apply to corporations or employers. In the new act there is a graduated penalty, from one to forty dollars for a workman who is guilty of a violation, from twenty to one hundred dollars for a person who is an employer, and from fifty to five hundred dollars for a corporate employer. This graduated penalty will be recognized as just and contributes much to make the act effective.

"In the fourth place, the new act applies to all classes of persons instead of many of the old provincial acts did not apply to farmers or barbers, or to professional men. The new act applies to all, permitting in any walk of life only things that are specifically accepted as being deemed works of necessity or mercy. A very persistent effort was made before the select committee of the House of Commons, before the House itself, and before the Senate, to have the Jews and others who observe some other day of the week as a real day exempted from the provisions of the Act, but in both Houses this proposed exemption was voted down by very large majorities.
It was felt that no special privileges should be given to any class, and that such an exemption would make evasion of the law easy, would give an unfair advantage to the exempted class in certain trades such as baking and newspaper publishing, and would give financial relief to Jewish employers, who,
on the other hand, put it up on a much larger number of Christian employers in Jewish-owned factories where under the exemption would be closed on Saturday, an equally serious financial disability, and our legislators felt that in a Christian land this would be unjustifiable.

"In the fifth place, the new law applies to the great transportation companies. No former act did apply.
They are not free to make up and start out freight trains. They are not free to load or unload except in certain circumstances. They are not free to do construction work of any kind, nor general repairs, but only such work as cannot be done on other days, and is essential to the safety of the public. They are not free to work their office staffs, which has on some roads been comparatively common. All this is a gain over present conditions.

"Sixthly, another new feature of the law of Clause 1, which makes it unlawful for anyone to require any employee in telegraph, telephone or transportation lines, in connection with industrial processes, to do the usual work of his ordinary calling on the Lord's Day unless he is allowed during the next six days (twenty-four consecutive hours) without labor. This will make it possible to get deliverance from seven-days-in-the-week work, and all will admit that to have men working ten or even twelve hours in the day seven days in the week, is a disgrace to a Christian country, and these are the hours of labor in several industrial institutions in Eastern Canada.

"On the other hand, Parliament introduced in the closing days of the session certain features of which we cannot speak so highly. One of these is the insertion in Clauses 2, 5 and 6 of these words, 'except as provided in any provincial act now or hereinafter in force.' The avowed object of the insertion of this section was to protect the provinces in whatever powers they possessed to legislate upon this question, a not unworthy object in itself, but the result may be a great deal of expensive litigation, and many legal authorities hold that if the provinces have the power these words were needless, and if they have not the power no action on the part of the Dominion can be brought. It is probable that in the not far distant future if any of the provinces seek to legislate upon the subject appeal will have to be taken to the Imperial Privy Council to settle more clearly and definitely the question of the respective powers of the Dominion and the provinces.

"The most objectionable amendment of all was put in by the Senate, making prosecutions dependent upon the permission of the Attorney-General of the province. This was probably intended to make vexatious prosecutions for anyone to justify making it necessary to obtain the consent of the Attorney-General before it is possible to take action to close a corner shop that is doing Sunday trading, or to put a stop to a company of Italian navvies doing construction work in the building of a new railway. It is simply ridiculous and unreasonable in the last degree. However, we do not share with some the opinion that the Attorney-General will be unwilling to give his consent. Some critics in Parliament said this meant that the act would be a dead letter. We have a higher opinion of the Attorney-General of the various provinces, and anticipate that since this duty is put upon them they will accept the responsibility and provide the most convenient machinery for the carrying out of the object of the law.

"There are other more trifling weaknesses, such as the permission given to manufacture maple sugar in the grove on the Lord's Day, but these are ridiculous rather than seriously harmful. Such permission could only be taken advantage of in limited districts.

"An impression has been given that the effect of the new act is to legalize games of ball, etc. and fishing and hunting, inasmuch as it prohibits only games for gain, prize or reward, and shooting at a target. This, however, is a great mistake. The old provincial laws remain in force, and in force, and in Ontario and the Maritime Provinces at least all nasty games and fishing, hunting and shooting, etc., are absolutely prohibited in terms of these laws, and in the Prairie Provinces, and on the mainland of British Columbia hunting and shooting at game is prohibited in terms of the game and other laws. It is therefore only in Quebec and certain parts of the west, where the prohibition of shooting is limited to target practice, and of games, to those for gain, prize or reward.

"All considered, therefore, the new act is an immense gain, and will accomplish much good. Its very existence will have a powerful deterrent effect, and it can be improved as the need is demonstrated. This is doubtless not the last time we shall be applying for legislation at Ottawa. We shall not ask needlessly, nor for anything unreasonable, but for the attending the recent effort shows that anything in reason can be obtained where public opinion demands.

"I desire for myself and for my colleague, Mr. R. U. McPherson, L.L.B., and for all the members of the L. D.
A. to express our grateful appreciation of the personal kindness shown and the practical aid given us by our public men in general at Ottawa. This applies with few exceptions, to the members of Parliament, and to many members of the Senate on both sides of politics, and it applies especially to the members of the Government, with whom naturally and necessarily we had much more to do than with leaders of the Opposition. It is highly probable that such a law could not have been passed had it been otherwise than a Government measure, and it is doubtful if the Government would or could have carried it through Parliament under any but a French Canadian Premier, and that therefore those who appreciate the Lord's Day Act, and the country in general, are put under a lasting debt of gratitude to Sir Wilfrid Laurier."

MEAT EXPORT IS FALLING OFF RAPIDLY
Washington July 19.—The Chicago hatchers lost $128,000 in the exportation of canned meat along as compared with June of 1905, according to statistics given out today. June was the month when the agitation against unsanitary conditions in the Chicago packing houses reached its climax.

"There was an increase, however, of 2,500,000 pounds in the exportation of fresh beef. Up to date over 7,000 applications have been received for the examination for meat inspectors to be made July 21. Four hundred appointments are to be made.

CAR SHORTAGE IS PREDICTED
Montreal July 19.—Considerable concern was expressed on "Change" this morning as the result of a report that there is, likely to be, a shortage again this season in the supply of freight cars for transportation purposes throughout the Dominion. This it is said will be felt most keenly during the closing months of navigation from the St. Lawrence. According to representative business men who have the opportunity to study the growth of Canadian trade in all its branches the statement is made that the construction of cars by the different railway companies has not been sufficient to meet the requirements of increased traffic, especially in the west and that this will in the near future give cause for anxiety to some of the larger exporters in eastern Canada. The grain merchants are especially interested in this matter as the new western wheat crop will soon have to be moved to the seaboard.

The railway companies have promised to do their best to handle the coming rush of freight as expeditiously as possible. The demand from all over Canada for cars, they say is unprecedented.

KANSAS HAS A PACKING HORROR
Topeka, Kan., July 19.—A meat slaughtering house near Wellington inspected by order of the state board of health has been found to be in such a filthy condition that the secretary of the board has sent notices to the county commissioners of every county in the state directing them to examine slaughter houses in their districts, and if not found to be in a sanitary condition to allow five days for cleaning up as permitted by law. "It is impossible to describe the actual conditions as we found them," said Dr. Grumbine.

RAILWAY COMPANY CENSURED
(Special to the Bulletin)
Galt, July 19.—The inquest on the triple fatality on the C.P.R. at "Calamity Curve" resulted in a verdict of censure on the railway for running an ill equipped and for recklessly handling a work train. The jury recommended that the railway company order a straight track in place of the curve.

EMPRESS MAKES FAST TRIP
(Special to the Bulletin)
Montreal, July 19.—The R.M.S. Empress of Ireland which sailed from Rimouski at 10 a.m., July 12, with mails arrived at Mosville Ireland via Cape Race on the southern route at 11:20 a.m. today making the run in five days, twenty-four hours and fifty minutes. This is the maiden voyage of the "Empress of Ireland."

SCOTLAND TOO
(Special to the Bulletin)
London, July 20.—Scotland, like Ireland is about to demand Home Rule and a bill to this effect will be presented in the House by Mr. Liberal member for North Aberdeen, asking for a separate parliament for Scotland.
This action is partly due to alleged neglect of Scottish affairs in the Commons and partly to Scottish jealousy over the prominence given to Irish affairs in the King's speech at the opening of Parliament.

BAD FIRE IN DUNDREE
(Special to the Bulletin)
Dundree, Scotland, July 20.—A fire late Thursday night destroyed the large warehouse of James Watson & Company, distillers of Scotch whisky, and a number of dwellings, entailing a loss of a million and a quarter. Over the gutters, women with children in their arms sprang in efforts to secure safety. While several were scorched none were fatally injured.

GREAT YEAR FOR PILGRIMAGES
(Special to the Bulletin)
Montreal, Que., July 20.—It looks as though the present year of grace will go down to posterity as the great pilgrimage year. The number of pilgrims which have already passed through this city for St. Anne de Beausapre, and other shrines, far eclipses any year on record. On several occasions this year where one special train was ordered there were eventually used. "It is not that the people are becoming more pious and devout, nor that their faith in the healing virtues of the shrines is becoming stronger, remarked a prominent railway official, "but simply that they have more money than they had before." Since the season began during June over fifty thousand pilgrims have been carried to St. Anne de Beausapre and other shrines. These devout Christians come from all parts of America.
A few days ago a special train arrived from the Canadian Northwest. More recently still a party of over a thousand arrived from Western Massachusetts and Northern Vermont. Railway officials state they already have bookings for over sixty more pilgrimages which will be made during July and August, including a large one from Manitoba.

One-way fire travel, in this right fur-good—all of it, in clean, HOT heat. Most furnaces don't give up the heat till it's lukewarm.

Warm air Furnace

Your fuel bills will be less next winter, your house amply warmer, once you see what this furnace really will do.
Burns any fuel that's really fuel, and gets all the good out of all it does burn. PERFECT combustion—Oxford three-sided grate-bars, built hollow, assure that. They burn a lot of AIR, that's why. Easy to repair them, too—take out anyone and disturb no other.
Extra big feed-door makes it easy to use rough, big, cheap fuel—that's a saving worth your while. Specially big ash-pit, needn't clean it

A CORRECTION

Editor Bulletin:

In your issue of the 19th inst., on Page 8 in your locals, I see a comment on the facts of the case regarding Mr. Kinnon's exhibit of cattle at the provincial exhibition at Edmonton, not being allowed to compete in the ring, also stating that all stockmen agreed to let Mr. Kinnon show excepting Mr. Bennet of Calgary.

Now, Mr. Editor, as director in charge, I know what I am saying, and was interested in every visitor that came on the grounds. I spared myself nor anybody else that I could get to help me, to make everybody comfortable, and at home, at the same time having an interest in no particular exhibitor, and my motto was a square deal to every man.

Your statement is misleading and hurtful in where it says that Mr. Bennet was the only stockman that objected to Mr. Kinnon showing. There were others who objected to him to the number of somewhere about nine or ten and he was only one of them. You also state in your facts, that Mr. Bennet said he would enter a protest, no matter what action the directors might take in the matter, if Mr. Kinnon exhibited, as having not complied with the rules. As far as this part of the facts are concerned, as well as I remember, it was understood by the breeders on the ground and myself, that it was possible there might be a protest if Mr. Kinnon showed. So Mr. Kinnon understood before all or most of them that he would not be allowed to show. The reason given was that his stock was not on the grounds according to the rules laid down in the prize list on Page 17 under the heading "Delivery of Live Stock and Articles on the Ground."

Another of the arguments against him showing was from Mr. James Little from Nepeawa, Manitoba, with his fear of prize winners. He was here on time and had about five hundred miles farther to come, but in order to do so he did not unload his stock for eight days. And, if I understood Mr. Kinnon right, he unloaded twice, once at Medicine Hat, where he says the Canadian Pacific Railway kept him twenty-four hours. Exhibitors who ship along the Canadian Pacific become accustomed to their tricks and how to handle cars of stock or anything else. A man may unload to feed and water, but when he loads again and is ready that does not say the Canadian Pacific is ready also. Now, Mr. Editor, I do not believe it would be good policy to make a prize list and not go by it. Mr. Kinnon's case looked tough and I sympathized with him as far as I dare, yet at the same time I am a firm believer in getting there on time and I say the breeders and exhibitors were right in making me stick to the prize list rules and I give them every credit for so doing, but I do not believe in saddling the blame on one man when others are as much concerned as he.

Directors may postpone the time of judging on account of wet weather, or a judge may be sick or such like, but to postpone for one man to get here would not be good policy. It would be natural on the part of the exhibition association to give him all there was in it. If all of the exhibitors were willing, it would not be good policy. Also it was stated I broke the rules when I let Mr. Kinnon's stock on the grounds. Mr. Kinnon was led to understand by me in front of the majority of the exhibitors that he could not compete and that was before his cattle came near the gate. But seeing the position he was in I allowed nine pens to go up on his account where he could put his cattle in till the fair was over.

The fair critics can judge whether I broke the rules or not.

Thanking you for space.

Fire Brigade Engineer Leaves City's Service

Mr. C. Turgeon, who leaves the service of the city to take the position of engineer in the provincial penitentiary, has been for more than eleven years engineer of the city fire brigade. Thirteen years ago with his family, he came to Alberta from Montreal and two years later took charge of the engine at the fire hall. Edmonton. In those days was a small town and the fire brigade as yet in its infancy, the engine having been secured only two years before. Beside his duties as engineer, Mr. Turgeon has been caretaker of the fire hall and until the separate office building was erected, of the municipal offices as well. The police station was formerly in the rear of the fire hall and is now in the basement of the office building and the care of the prisoners came also under the duty of the engineer, who was made a police constable for the purpose. During his eleven years of service at the hall Mr. Turgeon has witnessed the changes in and around the municipal buildings made necessary by the growth of Edmonton from a small town to an ambitious and busy city. His relations with the city officials and other employees has been most cordial and Mr. Turgeon wishes it distinctly understood that he is leaving the city's service not on account of any unpleasantness with the new fire chief or brigade. The new chief Mr. Turgeon considers an efficient officer who will make good in his position. While beginning duty at the penitentiary on Monday, Mr. Turgeon will continue to sleep at the fire hall and also to answer calls for fires until a new engineer has been secured.
